SHOOTING OF CHILD STIRS FAMILY FEUD

Fred Rockey Charged with Wounding Carrie Kauffman.

PLACED UNDER $500 BAIL

Son of John Rockey Bound Over for Further Hearing by Squire Keichline—Warrant for His Arrest Issued by Benjamin Kauffman.

A long-standing feud between the Benjamin Kauffman and John Rockey families, near Zion, has been revived and fanned into a fever heat by the shooting on Friday, last, of 14-year-old Carrie Kauffman with a gun in the hands of Fred Rockey, aged about 17 years. Young Rockey is a son of John Rockey. The little Kauffman girl is a member of the Benjamin Kauffman family. She was shot through the left arm while on her way home from school.

The Kauffmans allege that the shooting was intentional. The Rockeys contend that it was accidental. Benjamin Kauffman had a warrant issued charging Fred Rockey with "malicious shooting" and a hearing was held yesterday before Squire Keichline. What testimony was taken was so conflicting that Squire Keichline continued the hearing until Friday, March 25, at which time he expects to have present the little girl who was shot. Young Rockey was placed under $500 bail for the continued hearing. Dr. David Dale, the attending physician, said that she was unable to be present at the hearing yesterday.

It seems that on Friday, last, the little girl and Nervin Gilmore, who is 7 years old and who is being raised by Foster Sharer, were on their way home from school and were near the much-talked of lake, at Gentzel's, when the shooting occurred. Fred Rockey was in the vicinity with a target gun. According to the statement of Nervin Gilmore, so Squire Keichline stated, the former happened to look back and as he did he saw Fred Rockey point his gun at the little girl and shoot. Fred Rockey's statement, according to Squire Keichline, was that he was looking for ducks, that he thought he saw something moving in the lake and fired, the bullet glancing from the water and striking the girl in the left arm.

The statements offered as to where young Rockey was standing at the time of the shooting also were conflicting. By the Kauffmans it was contended that he was quite a distance from the lake. This was disputed by the Rockeys.

Benjamin Kauffman, in his testimony, said that he neither saw the shooting nor heard any report of a short being fired. He testified that the little girl had come running home crying, saying she had been shot.

The bitter feeling between the two families manifested itself on several occasions while the hearing was in progress.

Bail for young Rockey was furnished by his father.

Emery Out for Congress.

Former State Senator Lewis Emery, Jr., of Bradford, yesterday announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the twenty-first district, which includes Centre county. Mr. Emery, but a few years ago, was the Democratic-Lincoln party candidate for governor, in opposition to Gov. Stuart, who was on the Republican ticket and who, we rejoice to say, was triumphantly elected. In his statement Mr. Emery makes note of the fact that he has many times gone down to defeat.

AUDITOR'S ELECTION INVALID

Badly Tangled Case in Court Over Defect in Ballots.

Judge Orvis will, in a day or two, hand down an opinion as to whether there are one or two vacancies in the office of Borough Auditors to be filled by appointment. This summarizes a situation before the court as the result of an election tangle with a defect in the ballots as the cause of the trouble. Meanwhile, John Curtin, who was elected by a clear majority of the voters of the borough, cannot be sworn in for a full term, nor is it known whether Bert Robb is to fill a part or all of the unexpired term of Maurice A. Jackson, who resigned when leaving town.

The tangle is one of the most complicated that has ever been submitted to the court. County Chairman Zerby and Samuel D. Gettig figured as counsel for Wagner Geiss and Miles Walker, who were the Democratic candidates for Auditors for three and one years, respectively. Republican County Chairman Harry Keller and J. Thomas Mitchell appeared for Curtin and Robb.

Prior to the recent election, Robb was appointed by Judge Orvis, and commissioned for the unexpired term of Jackson. On the strength of this, the Republicans nominated but one candidate, Curtin, and for the full term of three years. The Democrats nominated two candidates, Geiss and Walker.

Curtin's election was attacked on the ground that the ballot specified his candidacy for the full term, that the ballot made provision for marking two candidates for Auditors, and that this made it possible for a voter to vote for two candidates, both for three years. It was also contended that Robb's appointment could not continue beyond the next succeeding election.

It was conceded by the lawyers for both sides that the ballot was defective, thus narrowing down the question to one of how many vacancies were to be filled. Judge Orvis held the matter under advisement.

Inasmuch as Curtin, who was duly elected, was in no way responsible for the tangle endangering his election, it is entirely probable that he will be appointed an Auditor by Judge Orvis. If the court holds that there are, in fact, two vacancies to be filled, Robb may be reapponited, although some Democrats were yesterday predicting that a Democrat would be named.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

An interesting event at Port Matilda, on Tuesday, was the celebration by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chaney of their golden wedding anniversary. Quite a number of friends were present and Mr. and Mrs. Chaney were the recipients of numerous gifts and messages of congratulation and good wishes.

BENNER TWP. ROAD TAX VOTE IS SET ASIDE

Judge Orvis Throws Out Verdict Favoring Work System.

MAY AFFECT HOWARD

Another Township, Also Voting to Change From Cash Payment System, Subject to Similar Action—Ballots Used Were Defective.

Judge Orvis, on Tuesday last, handed down an opinion setting aside the result of the recent election in Benner township, where by a vote of 80 to 16 the voters declared in favor of a work road tax system instead of the present system in which road tax is payable in cash. Judge Orvis based his opinion on the point that the question should have been stated in a different form than was used on the official ballot.

Howard township also voted in favor of a work road tax, and the matter was submitted in the same form as was done in Benner township. This being the case, a petition from any elector of that township contesting the result at the polls would undoubtedly be sustained, the cases being exactly similar.

The constitutionality of the vote itself was also brought into question in the petition filed in the case of Benner township. It was contended that the law covering the subject required that a majority of all the voters in the township, and not simply a majority of those voting, was necessary to change the system of paying road tax. Judge Orvis did not rule on this point, disposing of the matter on the defective ballot feature.

ROLLED OVER EMBANKMENT

Dr. Fisher and Henry Tibbens Have Narrow Escape From Death.

Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, has been figuring in so many accidents of late that his friends are beginning to look for some new chapters each week. Two weeks ago he almost froze to death, as the result of a fall during the night on the ice in the yard of his home. On Friday, last, while driving up Spring Creek with Henry Tibbens, their buggy slipped off the road and partly rolled over the steep embankment. Dr. Fisher escaped uninjured, but Mr. Tibbens had his collar bone and three ribs fractured.

According to Dr. Fisher's version of the accident, the road was covered with smooth ice and before they had time to realize their danger the buggy was partly down the embankment. Both were thrown out, Dr. Fisher falling on his back upon a large stone, and Mr. Tibbens striking the ground heavily a few feet away. Dr. Fisher held onto the reins and succeeded in stopping the horse, which fortunately kept its footing and was not dragged off the road. Mr. Tibbens was able to rise, but sharp pains in his shoulder and side let him know that he was painfully injured. Dr. Fisher at once examined him and found the fractures, as noted.

Dr. Fisher is about and attending to his duties, as usual. Mr. Tibbens will be laid up for some time to come.

Accident at Port Matilda.

William Weaver, of Port Matilda, employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad at that place, met with a painful accident near the Port Matilda station last week. He was pushing a truck along the station platform and got too near the tracks, with the result that he was struck by an in-coming train. The truck was overturned. Weaver became wedged between the overturned truck and the train and was terribly squeezed about the body. He was removed to Tyrone and later to the Altoona hospital, where it was discovered that he was suffering from contusions of the spine.

Fire At Julian.

Julian was visited by a disastrous fire on Friday morning of last week, the flames destroying the large barn of James Andrews and also the general store of Irvin Gray. In the Andrews barn were three horses, a cow and a calf and also a quantity of grain and feed, as well as farming implements. He had about $300 insurance. The Gray store was completely destroyed. Mr. Gray had $2300 insurance. It is not known how the fire originated.

Ard Sale Postponed.

The public sale of household goods at the Mary C. Ard home, at Pine Grove Mills, advertised for Tuesday, March 22, has been postponed on an order of court. Formal announcement to this effect was made yesterday.

POLICE FORCE IN JAIL

Bellefonte Coppers Lured Behind Bars at Fort Hurley.

For a period of several minutes on Friday last, Bellefonte's police force, including the chief, captain and the entire squad, was locked up in the county jail, charged with trespass. Furthermore, the town moved along in the same old way.

Lawyer James A. B. Miller was responsible for the issuing of a capias for the arrest of the Bellefonte coppers. He adopted this course after the police had arrested a man by the name of Green, and residing up Bald Eagle valley, charged with purchasing liquor for persons of known intemperate habits. The liquor in question consisted of a pint of whiskey. The police trailed Green and the pint into Mr. Miller's office and later the whiskey was found in a waste basket. Lawyer Miller was indignant when he learned that anybody had assumed to carry liquor into his office. He was even more indignant that the Bellefonte police force, with every member present, should march in solid phalanx into his office and institute search without so much as a warrant. Hence the issuing of a capias and the placing of the police force behind the bars at Fort Hurley.

While Lawyer Miller was still indignant, Sheriff Hurley devised a plan for the strategic capture of the police force. Harry Dukeman, who is chief of police, captain of police, and also a policeman, was looking things over around at the Logan Hose House. Daley Justice, who comprises the entire squad of police, was down at the Pennsylvania Railroad station to make sure that no crooks or second-story men might leave town on the afternoon train. Major Levi Symmonds, who has a proud record of many battles won single-handed in several wars, and who when not at war is the Major Domo at the Court House, was detailed to lure Dukeman and Justice to the jail. It was a joyful assignment for Major Symmonds. Without waiting to don the uniform which he usually wears on state occasions, he sauntered down to the railroad station and notified Policeman Justice to appear at the jail. Major Symmonds also let it be known that Chief Dukeman should be present. While Dukeman and Justice took one route, Major Symmonds took another, and made it a point to be first in arriving at the jail. Once there he secreted himself in a closet.

A minute or two later Dukeman and Justice arrived. Without so much as a smile, Sheriff Hurley explained that he had an important criminal lodged in a cell. Dukeman and Justice eagerly followed Sheriff Hurley into the cell room. Once the door had closed, Sheriff Hurley tossed the key outside, which was the signal to Major Symmonds to appear. Forgetting his gout, caused by a daily diet of champaigne, terrapin and lobster a la Newburg, Major Symmonds rushed out into the corridor and let loose a whoop that could be heard five blocks away.

Shaking his fist at the two policemen, who were inside the bars, Major Symmonds reminded them of the numerous occasions on which they had fun at his expense and asked them how they liked the joke. There was nothing for the policemen but to grin and say they enjoyed the delightful weather. When Major Symmonds had about exhausted himself by laughing, the policemen were released, Sheriff Hurley going on their bond.

MOTHER'S HEROIC EFFORT

Made Brave Attempt to Rescue Child From Burning House.

Funeral services were held at Marsh Creek, on Thursday last, for the four-years-old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Cypher, of Orviston, who was burned to death as a result of playing with fire at the kitchen stove.

Mrs. Cypher made a heroic effort to save her child from being burned to death, nearly sacrificing her own life in the attempt. While in an adjoining room she heard the child's chrieks, but when she rushed into the kitchen the room was a mass of flames. She was blinded by the flames and smoke and finally was compelled to flee to save her life. As it was she was terribly burned about the head and face.

DELUGE OF LETTERS ON ZERBY AND KEICHLINE

Readers of "The Republican" Discuss Democratic Row.

HINT ABOUT JIM CORL

Writer Asks if Effort is Being Made to Have Henry Brown Fail to Lift Commission so Jim Corl Might Be Appointed Justice.

"The Republican," for the first time in its entire history, acknowledges that it has been swamped. Literally and otherwise, we have been deluged with letters from our readers commenting on the prospect of a prize bout between Democratic Chairman Zerby and Squire Keichline.

Edward Haupt, a reader of "The Republican", offers his farm in the mountains as a site for the fistic battle. To this he adds that he will build a grandstand and put up $400 for training expenses. Billy. Burnside, another reader of "The Republican", sends word that he will add $150 to the fund if Mr. Haupt's offer is accepted. Billy. has a farm adjoining that of Haupt, and explains that he wants to do something to attract attention to that locality and increase the value of the land. Both stipulate that Jim Schofield must referee the bout.

But the letters! Some want to know how big was Zerby's knife used on Keichline. Another inquires if Keichline actually lost any blood. And so on. Our first thought was to have the letters bound and present a volume to each of the warring Democrats. On second thought, we concluded to publish a few for the benefit of other readers of "The Republican."

Here is one from a man, who in a postscript explains that his private opinion is that neither Zerby nor Keichline has the nerve to get together in the ring:

ZION, March 12, 1910.

MY DEAR EDITOR:—I am a believer in justice. I don't see why Mr. Zerby put the knife into Squire Keichline when so many others were standing around waiting for the chance, once. Mr. Zerby is a good chairman, maybe, and would make a good judge if Judge Orvis wasn't a judge, don't you think? I am a Democrat and Squire Keichline never was a Democrat; at least my old friend Bill Heinle says he wasn't. If they want to fight, why let them fight, but Jim Schofield shouldn't be the referee, what you call it. He thinks no Democrats are good Democrats but himself, yet, and might be prejudiced against one or the other and maybe both, don't you think.

Yours for justice,
A DEMOCRAT.

From one whose sympathies apparently lean toward Keichline, comes the following:

AARONSBURG, PA., March 14, 1910

MR. EDITOR:—I think it perfectly disgraceful that Mr. Zerby as Democratic county chairman should deliberately help defeat Mr. Keichline. I know Mr. Keichline is a Democrat because his name has been on the Democratic ticket as long as I can remember, and I am 67 years old on the 19th day of March. If this Mr. Zerby is a man he will at once accept Mr. Keichline's challenge and have a fair and square fight. Mr. Zerby would hold office just as long as Mr. Keichline if he had the chance.

SQUARE DEAL.

This letter is from an out-and-out Zerby sympathizer, who sees nothing good in Keichline.

BELLEFONTE, PA., March 15, 1910

TO "THE REPUBLICAN":—What's the use in kicking up a fuss over Keichline? He got what was coming to him. Zerby did the right thing in knifing him. The only mistake he made was in getting caught at it. Of course, a lot of you Republicans are standing back and laughing over this thing, but if you had a fellow like Keichline in your party you would give him just what Zerby handed out. This talk about a prize fight is all bosh. Zerby would knock him out in a minute, even if he couldn't stop him in an alley.

SOUTH WARD DEMOCRAT.

From Howard comes the following, written from the viewpoint of a so-called non-partisan:

HOWARD, PA., March 11, 1910.

DEAR EDITOR:—Let us have peace. No good ever comes from fighting. Thursday will be St. Patrick's Day and only the Irish have the right to stir up things at the present time. I want to ask, however, if it is true that certain persons are conspiring to induce Henry Brown not to lift his commission as Justice of the Peace in order that Jim. Corl might be appointed?

NON-PARTISAN.

Hospital Notes.

Mrs. Mary Matthews, Bellefonte; admitted for treatment.

Harry Grant, Ashland; had burned foot dressed.

Mrs. Frank Galbraith, Bellefonte; operated on Saturday. Doing nicely.

Mrs. Agnes Shope, Milesburg; fell and dislocated left shoulder. Reduced at hospital.

Mrs. Lucy McCullough, Bellefonte; discharged as cured.

MISS SOPHIA HUNTER

Oldest Resident of State College Died on Monday Afternoon.

Miss Sophia Hunter, the oldest resident of State College, died at her late residence at that place on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She was aged 84 years and is survived by one brother of a large family, Captain John A. Hunter, of Stormstown, who is in his 91st year.

Miss Hunter was born in Ferguson township, near Pine Grove Mills, and was a woman loved and admired by a large circle of friends. She was an active member of the Presbyterian church during her entire life.

Funeral services were held today at 10 o'clock, burial being made in the old cemetery, at Pine Grove Mills.

JOSEPH K. MOYER.

The funeral of the late Joseph K. Moyer, of Centre Mills, was held on Saturday, burial being made at Rebersburg. The services were largely attended, many persons from distant points being present. Had he lived Mr. Moyer would have been 70 years old yesterday. Deceased was born at what is known as Meyer's mill, on Penn Creek, near Coburn, and for many years followed farming and latter the occupation of miller. He retired from active work about four or five years ago. Surviving are a widow and the following children: John N. Moyer, of Rebersburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Kreider, of Baltimore; Mrs. H. Bruce Moyer, of Centre Mills; Jason K. Moyer, of Woodstock, Virginia; Miriam R. Moyer, of Frederick, Md.; Mrs. Flora Lambert, at home; Mrs. E. A. Zeigler, of Mt. Alto, and W. R. Bray, of South Bethlehem.

MRS. HARRIET E. MCGINLEY.

A long and useful life was brought to a close with the death on Sunday morning, last, of Mrs. Harriet E. McGinley, widow of the late Daniel McGinley, at the home of her son-in-law, S. D. Ray, on West Howard Street. Deceased was a daughter of John and Elizabeth Taylor and was born at Milesburg. She was aged about 87 years and was twice married, her first husband being Andrew Gregg Mitchell. Surviving are the following children, born to the second union: John, Linn and Mrs. Ray, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Stewart Pierce, of Conneaut, Ohio; Philip, of Sparrow's Point, Md., and Mrs. John Coolidge, of Passadena, Cal. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox officiating.

JOHN A. WOOMER.

John A. Woomer, one of Osceola's best known and highly respected citizens, died at that place on Friday morning last. He had been ill for some time. Deceased was born near Bald Eagle Furnace, September 3, 1842, and about 1870 located at Osceola. He was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Surviving are a widow, who was Miss Rachael Stewart, of Huntingdon county; one son, O. S. Woomer, of North Philipsburg, and two daughters Mrs. Viola Edwards and Mrs. H. W. Biddle, both residing at Osceola. Five brothers also survive: Harry, of Bald Eagle; Frank, of Tyrone; Alfred, of Osceola; Emanuel, of Morrisdale Mines, and Joseph, of Vail.

MRS. MARTHA LEITZELL.

Mrs. Martha Leitzell, wife of Harry Leitzell, died on Monday at her late home, on Penn street, at Millheim. Funeral services were held yesterday. She had been ill several months, death being due to a complication of diseases. Mrs. Leitzell was aged about 29 years and was a woman with many splendid qualities which endeared her to a wide circle of friends. She was a loving, loyal wife and a woman strongly attached to her home. The community in which she resided has lost a kind and good neighbor.

GEORGE HEVERLY.

George Heverly, who had long been a sufferer from dropsy, passed away from this earth on Saturday morning, last, at his late home, at Blanchard. Deceased was a son of the late Wesley and Jane Heverly and followed the occupation of mining for a number of years. He is survived by two sons, Clyde and Charles, and one daughter, Maggie. Funeral services were held from the Disciple church on Monday, being conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Patterson. Interment was made in the Disciple cemetery.

JOHN DAVIS.

John Davis died on Monday at his late home, at Linden Hall, after an extended illness. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. Surviving are one sister, with whom he made his home, and one brother, residing in South Dakota. Deceased was aged 80 years and was one of the early settlers of the township.

Receipts and Expenditures
OF
CENTRE COUNTY
FOR 1909

To the Honorable Ellis L. Orvis, the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County and State of Pennsylvania:

The Board of County Auditors, H. B. Pontius, of Bellefonte Boro; R. D. Musser, of Gregg Township, and C. U. Hoffer, of Philipsburg Boro, met at the Court House, January 3rd, 1910, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly in such cases and provided, to audit the accounts of the different officials of the county for the year 1909. Written notices were served on the County Commissioners, County Treasurer, Prothonotary, and Sheriff to deliver all books and vouchers pertaining to their respective offices for examination and audit.

We therefore respectfully submit the following reports, to wit: The accounts of Jacob Woodring, H. E. Zimmerman and John L. Dunlap, County Commissioners; G. G. Fink, County Treasurer; A. B. Kimport, Prothonotary; and W. E. Hurley, High Sheriff, were duly examined and found to be correct. The books of the County Commissioners show an expenditure of One Hundred and Sixty Thousand, Nine Hundred and Ninety-Two and 81-100 Dollars ($160,992.81), paid out during the year 1909. The account of Geo. G. Fink, County Treasurer, was carefully examined, checked, compared with vouchers and found to be correct; and the receipts of the office exceed the expenditures, leaving in the hands of the Treasurer a balance of Forty-Eight Thousand, Three Hundred and Sixty-Four and 14-100 Dollars ($48,364.14), due the County.

We also find there was collected during the year the amount of Eight Thousand, Two Hundred and Sixty-Three and 66-100 Dollars ($8,263.66), arising from Unseated Land Taxes and paid out to the different Townships for Road, School and Poor purposes. We find in the hands of the Treasurer a balance of Sheep Funds of Three Thousand, Three Hundred and Seventy-Four and 34-100 Dollars ($3,374.34), arising from Dog Tax. We find there was collected during the year 1909 Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00), arising from Liquor Licenses for 1909, and was paid out to the different Boroughs and Townships. Upon examination of the bill of fees, costs, etc., of A. B. Kimport, Prothonotary, we find there is due him from the County the sum of One Hundred and Seven and 35-100 Dollars ($107.35) The account of W. E. Hurley, Sheriff, was carefully examined and found to be correct, and find there is due him from the County the sum of Eight Hundred and Forty-Nine and 62-100 Dollars ($849.62).

In Witness Whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 26th day of February, 1910.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO CONTROL NEXT HOUSE

Congressional Gampaign Committee is Ready for Work.

PENROSE AND OLIVER

State Leaders Consulted in Regard to Situation in Pennsylvania—Keystone State Expected to Return Usual Large Delegation.

Washington, D. C.—March 16.—Republican leaders are out-lining plans for the campaign next fall for the election of a majority of the House in the Sixty-Second Congress. The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee has organized by the re-election of Representative McKinley, of Illinois, as Chairman, and Representative Loudenslager, of New Jersey, Secretary. Pennsylvania is represented on the Committee by J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia. The Republicans realize that they will have a hard fight to retain control of the House.

Pennsylvania and other stalwart Republican states are expected to return the usual strong Republican delegations but the conditions in the West are such as to present a situation full of uncertainty. Nearly all of the self-styled "progressive" Republicans of that section will be candidates for re-election. By voting with the Democrats in the House they have placed themselves in a position where they can expect no support from the regular Republicans of their districts. In districts represented by the insurgents loyal Republicans have made it clear that they do not propose to vote for so-called Republican candidates who will vote against that party in the House. Champ Clark, the leader of the Democrats, has predicted that the course of the insurgent Republicans will give the Democrats at least fifteen additional seats in the next House.

As the Republican leader in Pennsylvania, Senator Penrose has been consulted regarding the political conditions in that state. In 1904 when President Roosevelt was the presidential candidate Pennsylvania elected thirty one Republican members of the House and one Democrat. Two years ago Democrats increased their congressional representation to five. Since then Congress has enacted the Payne tariff law, which has brought a renewal of industrial activity throughout Pennsylvania. Senator Penrose believes that the people of the Keystone state will take advantage of the opportunity that will be presented next fall to record at the polls an indorsement of the party which placed it upon the statutes. He confidently expects the Republicans to reclaim some of the districts now represented by Democrats and believes that with proper effort they may elect as large a Republican delegation as they did in 1904.

Through the efforts of Senators Penrose and Oliver, Pennsylvania secured nearly everything it demanded in the revision of the Tariff schedules and they hope that the people of the state will give expression at the polls of their satisfaction with Republican policies by electing Republican candidates for Congress. All of the Pennsylvania Republicans in Washington appear confident that the Keystone state will make a splendid showing in the congressional elections. In addition to the satisfaction of the people of Pennsylvania over the Payne law is the fact that the Republicans there are in perfect harmony. Under the leadership of Senator Penrose the Republican hosts have been united as they never were united under the leadership of Simon Cameron or Mathew Stanley Quay. The state is free from debt and is furnishing other Commonwealths an example of good government. Its Republicanism has remained free from the taint of "progressive Republicanism." Under these conditions the prediction that Pennsylvania will make a satisfactory showing in the congressional elections from the Republican viewpoint seems entirely justifiable.

Fate of Second-Hand Autos.

The price of a rebuilt car ranges from $300 to $3,500. One firm reported that the average selling price of its second-hand cars was $2,000. Good standard chassis converted into delivery wagons are selling at $1,800. Touring cars, which last year sold for $1,250 and $2,000, may now be bought for from $500 to $800. A limousine which only saw a few months' service last year was sold by a second-hand shop this year for $3,000. The owner originally paid $4,200 for the car.

Tuxedo Park Association, the exclusive residence colony club of New York, recently bought four three-year-old cars, saving fifty per cent. on the original cost. These were formerly touring cars but they have been rebuilt into station wagons to carry the members of the colony to and from trains. The Adirondack League Club, of New York, has also purchased second-hand cars for the same purpose.

A greater market for second hand machines is found out of New York. A second-hand automobile firm, possibly the largest in this country, last year sold eight thousand cars. Ninety-five per cent. of these vehicles went to farmers. Leslie's Weekly.

RECORD CORN CROP

Louisiana Will Soon be One of the Great Corn Producing States.

Louisiana will soon be one of the great corn-producing States of the Union, say attaches of the United States, and Louisiana Department of Agriculture, which have been watching the extensive increase of corn acreage in this State. Last year Louisiana's crop was the greatest in its history when in a single season it passed from a grain-buying State to one which had a surplus crop to sell.

This movement was caused by the boll weevil, which made a cotton crop impossible, and the planters turned to corn with results that even astonished the producers. In addition to selling over 2,000 cars out of the State, the farmers fattened a great number of hogs, and today there is more of the cereal stored in the State than ever before.

Tests made by the New Orleans Board of Trade grain inspectors showed Louisiana corn to contain less moisture than that of Illinois, Iowa or Nebraska, which makes it a much better export grain than the product from the corn belt itself.

Farmers of North Louisiana last year enjoyed the unique distinction of selling corn to the men from whom they have been buying for the last decade. The Texas crop was a failure, and that State had to go elsewhere for its corn. The railroads put on emergency rates, and over 1,500 cars were shipped out of Shreveport to points in the Lone Star State from which Louisiana has been buying corn for the last ten years.

Louisiana corn exhibits at Chicago, Omaha and Dallas resulted in the sale of many thousands of bushels of white flint corn to be used as seed, and every available supply was tapped by the seed merchants who were unable to obtain enough to care for the demand.

Last year's crop netted the farmer an average of 70 cents a bushel, and though many are tempted by high-priced cotton this year, they are all looking for the coming of the boll weevil with the August rains, and while the cotton acreage may be increased to some extent, this will in no manner affect a corn crop which is expected to be the greatest in the State's history.

Last year the cotton crop came largely off small patches which were planted between the corn rows. Many of the farmers planted no cotton at all and these will plant this year, while indications point to the fellow who had a small patch last year following out the same program. Last year many of the farmers plowed under their cotton when the weevil first appeared and planted other crops. This year the cotton crop will be worked out to the bitter finish, no matter how thick the boll weevil may be, such was the lesson taught by 15-cent cotton.

In the meanwhile, however, preparations for making the State a great corn producer are going on. Every farmer will plant some cotton, but he will have more corn than ever before, and indications point to the State soon taking its position among the corn-bearing States of the Union.

Boys' corn clubs are being organized in every parish, and the total membership already runs over 5,000, with several parishes yet to be organized. Last year the boys in one parish, seventy-five in number, produced an average crop of fifty bushels to the acre on largely uphill soil. Every boy to be a member of the club must plant one acre, which will increase the yield this season by over 5,000 acres.

In the meanwhile the acreage in corn will be increased fully 25 per cent. over last year, and with anything like the success met with last season this will give the State a surplus of over 5,000,000 bushels.

Texas, which last year took the greater part of the crop, will no doubt raise a sufficiency for its needs this season, and the Louisiana grower will be forced to look elsewhere for a buyer. This problem, however, has been anticipated and it is likely that 75 per cent. of the surplus will be exported via New Orleans. Elevators and shellers are being placed on the various railroads traversing the State and preparations are now on for changing the State from a cotton producer to a member of the corn belt.

TO SELL WOODEN CARS

Penna. Railroad Replacing Them With Steel Equipment.

Due to the fact that it is receiving steel passenger equipment cars for use on its various lines, the Pennsylvania Railroad is to offer for sale a large number of of its wooden passenger cars.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company in 1906 stated that all further additions to its passenger equipment would be built of steel and since that time some 630 cars have been built or are in course of construction. In addition, about 250 cars will be ordered for 1910 delivery. With this large number of cars now on hand the Company is able to operate solid all-steel trains on its lines of densest traffic and it is, therefore, possible to dispose of much of its wooden passenger equipment.

The first consignment which is to be disposed of by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company consists of 140 coaches, 13 dining cars, 5 cafe cars, 39 postal cars, 1 baggage car, 22 combined passenger and baggage cars, and 4 baggage and mail cars.

He Was a Good Mixer.

There used to be a popular minister in Indianapolis who was well known in Louisville. He was pastor of one of the leading churches of the city. He was built on the plan of the late Henry George, whose motto was, "I am for men." This Indianapolis preacher was what is called a "good mixer." One day he stopped in a blacksmith shop to chat with the workmen. During the visit a florid faced man of prosperous appearance came into the shop. He and the minister began chatting, but neither knew the other's line of business. They became good friends in a few minutes. Finally the florid faced man produced his card, which announced that he was in the saloon business on West street.

"Come down to my place any time," he said, "and I'll show you a good time."

"All right," replied the minister, "and, by the way, I'm running a pretty good place myself. Come and see me, and I'll show you a good time."

"I'll sure do that," said the other. "But, by the way, where is your joint?"

"My joint," was the reply, "is the First Presbyterian church. Just inquire for Myron W. Weed, the pastor, and I'll be at your service."—Louisville Times.

The Military Salute.

All salutes, from taking off the hat to presenting arms, originally implied respect or submission. Of military salutes, raising the right hand to the head is generally believed to have originated from the days of the tournament, when the knights filed past the throne of the queen of beauty and by way of compliment raised their hands to their brows to imply that her beauty was too dazzling for unshaded eyes to gaze upon.

The officer's salute with the sword has a double meaning. The first position, with the hilt opposite the lips, is a repetition of the crusader's action in kissing the cross hilt of his sword in token of faith and fealty, while lowering the point afterward implies either submission or friendship, meaning in either case that it is no longer necessary to stand on guard. Raising the hand to the forehead has also been explained as a sign that the weaponed hand is empty and in an inoffensive position, but this reason does not seem so convincing as the others.

A Toothsome Revenge.

During the reign of Charles II., the age of gallantry, it was the custom among gentlemen when they drank a lady's health in order that they might do her still more honor to destroy at the same time some part of their clothing.

Upon one occasion Sir Charles Sedley was dining in a tavern and had a particularly fine necktie on, whereupon one of his friends to play him a trick drank to the health of a certain lady, at the same time throwing his necktie in the fire. Of course Sir Charles had to do likewise, but he got even, for not long after that, dining with the same company, he drank the health of a fair one, at the same time ordering a dentist whom he had engaged to be present to pull out a refractory tooth which had been troubling him. Every one else was obliged in this manner to mourn a molar.

Great Forests.

Canada owns a forest larger in area than the whole of England, Scotland and Wales all put together. The greatest length of Britain is 608 miles, and its greatest width 325 miles, while a Canadian forest in the Hudson bay and Labrador region is 1,000 by 1,700 miles in extent. Another big forest stretches from Alaska to Washington state. The Amazon basin, South America, comprises about 2,100 by 1,300 miles of forest, while Central Africa has a forest region 3,000 miles from north to south and of unknown width from east to west, and the pine, larch and cedar forests of Siberia are 3,000 by 1,000 miles in extent.

Logic.

"What—a boy of your age doesn't know the parts of speech!" exclaimed the schoolmaster.

"No, sir," replied the pupil.

"Haven't you ever heard of a noun?"

"Oh, yes, sir!"

"Well, what comes next?"

"I don't know, sir."

"A pronoun," said the master. "Now remember that. Then comes the verb. Now what follows that?"

"A proverb, please, sir."—London Scraps.

Doing Very Well.

"How's your son making out in business?" asked the first capitalist.

"Very well, indeed," replied the other; "he's got a quarter of a million."

"Why, you started him with a million, didn't you?"

"Yes, and it's two months now since he started operations in Wall street."—Catholic Standard and Times.

A Choice of Calves.

The difficulties the early Virginian colonists had with their live stock is curiously illustrated by the fact that in the colony of Massachusetts Bay a red calf was cheaper than a black one, experience having shown that the former was more likely to be attacked by wolves owing, it was thought, to the wolves mistaking it for a deer.

Deceived.

Edith—You say old Mr. Goldley deceived Edith dreadfully about his age? Gladys—Yes, poor girl! After they were married he confessed that he was only sixty instead of seventy-five.

Genuine Faith Cure.

Towne—Do I understand you to say that Spencer's case was really a faith cure? Browne—Yes. You see, the doctor and the druggist both trusted him.

Centre County Deaths.

MRS. LYDIA WOLF FRANK.

On Sunday morning, last, about 6 o'clock, at her late home at Aaronsburg, Mrs. Lydia Wolfe Frank died from pneumonia. She had been ill but a few days. Deceased was the widow of the late John Frank, who died about twenty years ago. Funeral services were held yesterday, conducted by Rev. B. M. R. Sheeder. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery.

JOHN S. AUMAN.

John S. Auman died yesterday at Red Mill, near Potters Mills. He had been ill but a short time. Deceased was aged about 60 years and was a miller by occupation, for many years operating the Red Mill. Among those surviving is his father, who is in his ninetieth year.

CYRUS DIXON.

Cyrus Dixon, a well known and highly respected farmer, died at his late home, near Zion, early last Friday morning. Interment was made at Gillantown. Deceased is survived by three sons: James and William, residing at home, and Harry, located at Philipsburg.

MRS. EDWARD COOK.

Mrs. Edward Cook died at her late home at Madera, on Sunday of last week. She was formerly Miss Ellen D. Potts, of Philipsburg. She is survived by a husband and seven daughters.

CO. L INSPECTED

Bellefonte Boys Make Splendid Showing in Hard Test.

Company L (formerly Company B) was formally inspected at the Armory on Thursday night, last, the inspection being conducted by Lieutenant Colonel William F. Barber, of Lewisburg; Captain M. H. Taggart, of Northumberland; Major William R. Follmer, of Lewisburg; Major William H. Straub, of Milton; Captain Roy L. Schuyler, of Lock Haven, and Captain Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte. The severity of the test to which the boys were subjected spurred them to their best effort to make a splendid showing.

It was the first inspection of the company since the election of Hugh S. Taylor, as captain, who endeavored to have his men present the best showing possible. Considering the fact that there were a number of newly enlisted men in the ranks and recent changes among some of the officers and non-commissioned officers, the company did remarkably well. It was probably the most rigid inspection to which any company has been subjected in many years.

As the result of the election of First Sergeant William H. Brown to the vacancy of Second Lieutenant, a number of other non-commissioner officers were moved up, the roster now being as follows: J. Linn Blackford, first sergeant; Henry Taylor, quartermaster sergeant; Clarence McCafferty, first duty sergeant; Gladstone Taylor, second duty sergeant; Claude Smith, third duty sergeant; Dr. J. M. Huff, fourth duty sergeant. The following are corporals: Harry C. Jodon, Jerome Dale, Harry Shreffler, Edmund Hayes, Sam'l. Robb and Lee R. Smith.

Sunday School Convention.

A pleasing success was the district Sunday School convention, held on Thursday, last, at the Methodist Episcopal church, at Pleasant Gap, the several churches being represented as follows: Rock Forge Methodist, William Colpetzer; Axe Mann Union, T. M. Weaver; Pleasant Gap Methodist, H. N. Twitmire; Valley View United Brethren, H. E. Corman; Fillmore Methodist, Rev. E. Rumberger; Olive Branch Union, D. N. Cole; Union Messiah, N. L. Gill; Bellefonte Presbyterian, General Beaver; Bellefonte Methodist, C. C. Shuey, Rev. Dr. T. S. Wilcox; Bellefonte Reformed, A. Lukenbach; Evangelical, E. J. Teaman; Lutheran, H. J. Hartranft; United Brethren, Darius Waite. A number of very interesting addresses were delivered. The residents of Pleasant Gap, with typical hospitality, spared neither time nor trouble in according the visitors a royal welcome. The next convention will be held at Bellefonte.

Will Move to Bellefonte.

According to the Philipsburg "Journal" the family of Harry J. Goss, of that place, will shortly move to Bellefonte, where Mr. Goss has been located for the last year. Mr. Goss recently disposed of his property at Philipsburg to Charles D. Kuhn, of that town. The people of Bellefonte will welcome Mr. Goss' family and we trust that they will like our town so well that they will always make it their home.

HUNTINGDON PRESBYTERY

Program for Meeting to be Held at Bellefonte, April 11-12.

Considerable interest is attending the completion of plans for the regular meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery, which will be held at Bellefonte on Monday evening and Tuesday, April 11 and 12. An interesting program has been arranged and a large attendance is anticipated. Commissioners will be chosen to the General Assembly, which meets at Atlantic City, May 19.

26. Approval of Minutes.
27. Adoption of Resolution of Thanks.
28. Adjournment.

The Fashionable Coiffure

Fashion today demands the coiffure simple. There are no more formal curls, no more hard and fast puffs, no heavy and hot supports, for the pompadour. There are innumerable styles in coiffures, but all of them are characterized by simplicity and shapeliness. Now, while any arrangement of the hair that shows these qualities is in harmony with the mode, there is one feature of the model coiffure that is distinctive and almost generally becoming. This is the braid or coil that encircles the head. It may be the conventional Roman braid a thick firm plait or it may be a simple coil, but it forms part of the majority of the new styles. Its functions must be understood if we are to use it correctly. But I hear you object, what a cruel style it is that requires sufficeint hair for braids and coils to extend all around the head. So it would be were it the case, bnt the half of art is suggestion; it is not neccessary to carry the hair all around the head—merely suggest the complete circle. For instance, supposing you part your hair in front and roll it at the sides. Then comb your back hair upward, divide it, twist it, cross it and carry the ends to the point where they can be tucked under the hair rolled at the sides. By this simple means, you have given your head the proper shape, a sufficient hint of the fashionable to your coiffure. From Woman's Home Companion for March.

OFFICERS OF MOOSE

Are Formally Installed at Meeting, Followed by Smoker.

A meeting of Bellefonte Lodge No. 206, Loyal Order of Moose, was held in the Armory, Friday evening last, with two hundred and thirteen members present. Deputy Supreme Organizer Walter S. Greevy presided, and the following officers were installed:

Senior Past Dictator, Col. H. S. Taylor.
Junior Past Dictator, R. B. Taylor.
Dictator, John Dunlap.
Vice-Dictator, E. J. Williams.
Secretary, J. H. Decker,
Treasurer, John N. Fisher.
Prelate, Frank M. Shugert.
Sergt-At-Arms, Edward M. Schofield.
Inner-Guard, Martin Kane.
Outer-Guard, John W. Gross.
Trustees, James Schofield, Wm. H. Hamilton, Harry Otto.

A smoker and social session followed the ceremonies, and speeches were made by Robert Bankert, Commissioner of Blair County; Col. H. S. Taylor, James Schofield and others.

The Loyal Order of Moose, while new in this section, is not a young organization by any means. The Moose Lodge was founded in Louisville, Ky., April 12th, 1888, by J. H. Wilson, a man of great scientific ability, vast wealth and renowned philanthrophy. The organization now covers every city and town of importance in the United States and Canada, and some idea of its beneficial and fraternal value can be gained by the statement that the local organization, now numbering two hundred and thirteen members, came into existence after but six weeks work on the part of Organizers Greevy and Valentine.

By a vote of the lodge it was agreed to keep the charter open until May 15th, at the special charter fee of $5.00, and Deputy Supreme Organizer Walter S. Greevy and State Organizer R. C. Valentine will be at the Brockerhoff House several days each week to continue to increase the local membership.

HELD "SYMPATHY STRIKE"

College Students Burlesque Phila. Street Car Tie-Up.

State College students on Saturday last, participated in a burlesque "sympathy strike" and two hours of uproarious fun ensued. Two milk wagons, fitted up as trolley cars, were run up and down College Avenue while the "strikers", several hundred strong, threw corn cobs and other harmless missiles at the "cars" and "conductors" and "motormen." Numerous "riots" resulted.

J. M. Symplers, an [illegible] delivered a stirring address urging the "strikers" to united action, and headed by the cadet band they marched over the campus, finally encountering an equal number of "strike-breakers." A rough and tumble skirmish ensued, when in response to a riot call sent in from an improvised alarm box, a company of cadets responded. Fifteen mounted "police" also arrived on the scene, but all efforts to disperse the "strikers" were unsuccessful.

A large crowd of townsfolk and non-participant students assembled on the diamond and nearby street corners, but were soon forced to seek shelter from a stream of water issuing from a plug at the Engineering Building.

When they had become tired out, and then only, the students called off the "sympathy strike" and peace was restored.

Facts From France.

Nearly 316,000 marriages took place in France last year.

Regular theatrical performances are given every year in France in huge ruined theaters built by the Romans.

Flour making in France is the most important industry in the country in amount of capital invested and value of annual output.

The French government takes 15 per cent of all the money staked at the casinos of the seaside and other health resorts on the little horses and other gambling devices. For the season of 1908-9 this percentage amounted to $943,393, the summer season naturally contributing the greater part—over $600,000.

Train and Track.

There are in Argentina four broad gauge railroads, three narrow gauge and two English gauge.

Electricity has supplanted gas for car lighting in nearly all state railways of Italy, Switzerland and Denmark.

It has been proved that the great railway terminals, where traffic is constant, where switch engines are shunted back and forth and suburban trains are run frequently, can be operated more economically by electricity than by steam.

The County at a Glance.

Howard.

'Squire Hayes Schenck of this place is making quite a record for himself as an auctioneer and his services are continually in demand, especially in Nittany and lower Bald Eagle valleys. Last Thursday he cried a sale in the east end of Nittany valley and during the eight hours made sale of 788 articles, the sale amounting to over $5,000. "Bigony" must have been knocking them down almost "too numerous to mention."

Mrs. Marius Miner was agreeably surprised last Thursday when her brother, Lewis Swartz, of Easton arrived in Howard, his coming being unknown to her. It has been some time since they saw one another. On Friday they visited relatives in Hublersburg.

Dr. O. W. McEntire, D. W. Holter, M. S. Betz, Hayes Schenck, Mitchell Weaver, Clair Schenck, Dr. W. J. Kurtz, John and Will Weber were Bellefonte visitors last Friday. Some of these gentlemen were there for the purpose of joining the newly organized lodge of Moose and returned home full fledged members.

Cashier Matthew Rodgers and wife were visitors at the county seat on Friday.

Misses Annie and Mabel Confer visited friends and did some shopping in Bellefonte last Thursday.

J. S. Holter was a Curtin visitor on Saturday.

Lewis Bolopue, of Blanchard, called on his former friends here last Thursday.

Ex-Sheriff D. W. Woodring, of Bellefonte, was a business visitor in town on Thursday.

D. Paul Fortney, of Bellefonte, was in town last Friday looking after matters of a legal nature.

Mrs. Katherine Bechdel returned home from Pittsburg last Friday after spending the winter with her children who reside in the Smoky City.

Wycliffe Gardner, of Pittsburg, visited his brother and sister here last week.

Mrs. C. C. Lucas and daughter were Saturday visitors in Lock Haven.

James Leathers and Samuel Bowers were visitors to the Clinton county seat on Saturday.

Justice W. C. Thompson of the township is slowly improving from his recent serious illness.

Miss Lulu Schenck was up from the Normal on Sunday, having been ill with the grip for a few days.

Wm. Boney and wife, of Mt. Eagle, were Sunday visitors in town.

Merchant S. J. Wolf had as his guests on Sunday his father and brother from Woodward.

Irvin Gray, of Julian, was a Sunday visitor at the home of Joseph Diehl.

Asbury Pletcher, of the Intersection, was a home guest over Sunday.

W. O. Wagner spent his Sunday in Lock Haven.

HELPFUL LEGISLATION

Gov. Stuart Praised for Law Protecting Disabled Animals.

In the report of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, praise is accorded Governor Stuart for aiding in the passage of the law prohibiting the offering for sale of old, diseased or disabled horses. Persons interested in the prevention of cruelty to animals believe that this law will do much toward aiding Humane Societies in the State in bringing prosecutions and thereby stopping what has long been recognized as a cruel practice.

In connection with the work of the Pennsylvania Society, it should be explained that Chief of Police Dukeman has been appointed its representative in Bellefonte. He has already made several arrests of persons guilty of abusing horses.

The law, mentioned so favorably in the report of the Pennsylvania Society, follows:

AN ACT.

Prohibiting any owner offering for sale or selling any disabled horse.

SECTION 1. That it shall be unlawful for any owner to offer for sale or sell any horse which by reason of debility, disease or lameness, or for other cause should not be worked in this Commonwealth without violating the laws against cruelty to animals.

SECTION 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to lead, ride or drive on any public way for any purpose, except that of conveying the animal to a proper place for its humane keeping, or killing or for medicinal or surgical treatment, any horse which by reason of debility, disease or lameness, or for other cause could not be worked in this Commonwealth without violating the laws against cruelty to animals.

SECTION 3. Any owner violating the provision of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on being convicted thereof, before an alderman, magistrate or Justice of the Peace, shall be fined by the said alderman, magistrate or Justice of the Peace, in the sum of not less than ten, nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, said fine to be paid to any regularly incorporated Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals bringing suit or prosecuting the charge.

SECTION 4. Any policeman or constable of any city or county or any agent of any Society or association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, duly incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, shall upon his own view of any such misdemeanor or offense, make an arrest and bring before an alderman, magistrate or Justice of the Peace, offenders found violating the provisions of this act, and any policeman or constable, or any agent of any society as aforesaid, shall also make arrests of such offenders, on warrant duly issued according to law, when such misdemeanor or offense is not committed in view of Act of May 6, 1909.

VAULT IN NET OF WIRES

Elaborate Device for Protection of Treasure in N. Y. Bank.

A landau with four men inside and an extra man on the box drove up Sixth avenue at a rapid rate on Saturday morning, says the "New York Sun." Two of the men were officers of the Union Dime Savings bank, and the carriage carried more than $25,000 in currency and securities to the bank's new building at Forty-first street and Sixth avenue.

This ride was made before the bank was opened in the morning, and the treasure was stored in the great vault in time to have begun work on Saturday had the bank officers desired. On Monday the bank was put in full operation in the new building. Since the day after Christmas, 1876, the bank has been at Broadway and Sixth avenue and Thirty-second street.

The new home of this institution is to possess certain characteristics that adapt it more thoroughly for the purpose than any other recent structure of its kind.

The vault, rising behind the banking screen, is the notable point in the interior. It is structurally quite independent of the building. It stands on its own foundation and cannot be entered from below. The vault is 12x22 feet and has electric protection on the top, sides and bottom. This protection is under a coating of bronze and marble.

First in the electric protection comes a layer of wood so thickly filled with electric wires that the insertion of a knife blade into the wood at any point would cause the alarm to ring. Under this wood come the walls of concrete, two and one-half feet thick and ribbed with interlaced iron bars, and finally the shell of chrome steel and iron. This is three inches thick. There are two doors of steel and iron weighing 13 tons, but so carefully adjusted that they may be moved with one hand. There are three time locks. A thin layer of steel divides the vault into two parts. One is for currency and the other for securities. The wall may easily be cut through in case one of the doors should through any cause, refuse to operate.

The electric communication with the vault leads out of the building through a secret joint, but should the wire be discovered and cut it would still continue to ring, just as a telephone does when the receiver has been removed. So anybody trying to get away with any of the $500,000, more or less, in cash that will be usually deposited in the bank, or the securities, which may be still more valuable, is not going to find it any easy job.

The two doors of the vault are in the eastern and northern walls, and one is entered from the treasurer's office, while the other goes directly on to the space back of the banking counters. Mindful of a bank robbery that took place several years ago when the robbers watched through a window for the minute the treasurer was alone and then broke into his office, there are three doors to the office of the treasurer in this new bank, and the door leading immediately to the office cannot be opened except when the treasurer touches the button on his desk.

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna. I do so most heartily."--Julia Marlowe.

Any remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centers require nutrition.

If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and nervous debility is the result.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Bellefonte readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. John Eckel, 118 W. Lamb Street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: "I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Green's Pharmacy Co. and can say that they have been of greater benefit to me than all the other kidney medicines I have ever taken. I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and I always felt tired and languid. Dizzy spells and headaches also annoyed me and stooping or lifting caused sharp twinges throughout my body. I was restless at night and had no strength or energy to attend to my housework. Soon after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Green's Pharmacy Co., I improved and it was not long before I was in good health. I cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the benefit they brought me." (Statement given October 21, 1907.)

Permanent Relief. On November 23, 1909, when Mrs. Eckel was interviewed, she said: "I willingly confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. Since using them, I have had no return of kidney complaint."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

DREADNAUGHT CARS.

The nub of railroading is first-class equipment and reliable service. The Pennsylvania Railroad provides this for the public. For many months big all-steel coaches, built like Dreadnaughts, have been operated on all through trains. Their easy-riding qualities and steadiness of motion have been widely praised. The all-steel dining cars too have distinct advantages over the wooden ones. They are stronger and steadier, and the act of eating is made more enjoyable by the smoother movement.

There are also some steel Pullman Cars—Combined Parlor-Smokers and Baggage—in the service now. Travelers like them. They have plenty of elbow room and they glide over the rails. The Sleeping Cars are coming. Some four hundred parlor and sleeping cars will be in use by Summer.

These steel coaches and cars are the strongest vehicles ever built for passenger transportation. They are fire proof, break proof and bend proof. They represent the climax of safety and the perfection of comfort in railroad travel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has always been the leader in all manner of improved equipment as well as in all methods of making their patrons more comfortable. This is why it is known and honored as The Standard Railroad of America.

TITLES THAT ARE CURIOUS

German Emperor Has Seventy-five, and the King of Spain Forty-two.

It is a curions fact that the monarch of the greatest and most important nation in the world has almost the shortest and least imposing title of any, says the London Answers.

Most of the crowned heads of Europe revel in a multiplicity of styles and dignities; but apart from mere Peerages, the ruler of the mightiest empire the world has ever seen has to be content with the simple formula: "Edward VII., by the Grace of God' of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India."

Even in these titles the reference to the Britains over seas was added only on the present king's accession, and the style of Emperor of India was conferred on the British sovereign late in Queen Victoria's reign. Queen Victoria was crowned simply: "Of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith," through on some of the early coinage of her reign—the florin, for instance—she is styled: "By the Grace of God of all the Britains Queen, Defender of the Faith."—a fine, dignified and comprehensive style.

Besides his regal appellation our king has, of course, many lesser titles, but even these are not nearly so numerous as in the case of most foreign potentates.

The full list of these dignitaries is: Duke of Cornwall (in the Peerage of England creation 1337), Duke of Rothesay, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Coburg and Gotha (the dukedom he resigned in 1863), Prince of Saxe-Coburg Saalfield, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, Prince of Wales, Earl of Chester, Duke of Lancaster and Earl of Dublin. All of these titles, except the last two, which date from 1841 and 1849 respectively, are of long standing and it is interesting to note, embrace dignities in each division of the United Kingdom.

But, long as the list appears, it is by no means as long as that of many an ordinary peer of the realm, the duke of Argyll, for one, easily surpassing it with 27 separate titles.

When one turns to other monarchs, the list appears very trivial, the German emperor, for instance, enjoying the luxury of 75 subordinate titles, the king of Spain 42, the emperor of Austria 61, the sultan of Turkey 82.

The sultan of Turkey's various styles are somewhat amusing to the western mind. He is, of course. Sul-Tan and Kha-Khan (high priest and lord of lords) to start with; then he claims sovereignty over most districts, towns, cities, and states in the east, specifying each by name and setting out with great deliberation in each of his various titles, "all the forts, citadels, purlieus and neighborhood thereof," in regular legal form, and, finally, his official designation ends, "Sovereign also divers other nations, states peoples and races on the "face of the earth." All this is, of course, in addition to his high position as "head of the faithful," and "supreme lord of all the followers of the prophet," "Direct and only lieutenant on earth of Mohammed."

The emperor of Austria, the pope, the sultan of Turkey, the king of Spain and the king of Portugal are all "king of Jerusalem." The emperor of Austria and the king of Spain both call themselves "king of Galicia."

Of sovereigns who claim British territories, the worst offender is the young king of Spain. He is, among other things "king of Gibraltar," "king of the East Indias," "king of Oceania," "king of the West Indies," and "king of India," the last title being also owned by the king of Portugal; while on titles formerly borne by the monarchs of Britain, the king of Spain is also "king of Castile," "king of Arragon," and "king of Navarre."

Thomas E. Watt Retires.

It was with a feeling of personal regret that we received a letter a day or two ago from Thomas E. Watt, of Pittsburg, announcing that on March 31, next, he would retire after many years of service as District Passenger Agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad. For so many years Mr. Watt has held this position that it always seemed that he was sort of cut out to remain there until Father Time issued a pass for all of us for a free trip over the Grand Old Road. However, Mr. Watt is to be rewarded for long and faithful service and with the close of the present month will be relieved of the arduous duties of his position. Here's tossing a flower or two to one of the most genial and efficient men identified with the Pennsylvania Railroad, and with it we express the hope that he may live long and meet with continued prosperity and happiness.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

Pneumonia follows a cold but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar which stops the cough, heals the lungs and expels the cold from the system. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Spring Fashion Notes.

"The waistline will come this spring just where it belongs," we are assured by Grace Margaret Gould in the Woman's Home Companion for March. "The defining of the normal waistline is now a feature of the new fashions. About the only exception to this is in the Russian-blouse coats, where often-times the loose belt hangs well below the waist. The dresses in Moyen Age effect will still appeal to the popular trade, but they are no longer high style. Among the good-looking dresses showing the Moyen Age effect are those made of a combination of heavy and sheer linen—the bodice portion of the heavy linen and the lower plaited skirt portion of sheer linen. In these dresses which are made with a guimpe the sleeves and guimpe are of the same sheer linen as the plaited skirt.

"Sashes will be much worn, not only around the normal waist, but as a skirt trimming defining a flounce, for instance, and tying at the back just above the knees.

"The sleeves which were in our new gowns last spring, will only be presentable this year after remodeling. Sleeves are growing shorter and the tendencies are all toward the banishing of the long sleeve for warm weather. For general every-day wear, many modified bishop sleeves will be worn, these, of course, in the long length. But the majority of the new sleeves end just below the elbow where they are finished with a fascinating little undersleeve, frequently in the form of a very small, filmy puff. Sleeves with a cap effect are smart in style and they vary greatly in length, some are not more than two inches long and others reach half-way down the arm. The little white undersleeve is a most noticeable feature of the new sleeves. Sometimes it protrudes only for a couple of inches below the upper colored sleeve, both of which are finished with nothing more elaborate than a half-inch hem or a little bias self-facing. The majority of the sleeves are extremely plain and inconspicuous.

"Perhaps that is the reason why the new bracelets, many of them in antique design, are so very elaborate, making a striking contrast to the plain sleeves."

Mysteries of the Dining-Car.

"The kitchen of a dining-car is a most exaggerated example of the economy of space," says F. M. Graves in the Woman's Home Companion for March. "Every inch is used. Water-tanks are suspended from the ceiling. One wall is lined with the big range and heating ovens, while on the other are storage-boxes, receptacles for pans, pots and other utensils, and a row of cupboards up under the ceiling. At one end, between the kitchen and the dining-car proper, is a little pantry which serves as a sort of vestibule. That is where the waiters place their orders and receive dishes.

"Every separate article of food and equipment has its place. Every corner and nook in the car has a particular function. The silver is in one place, the milk and cheese in another, the meat in another, and so on through the list. Everything perishable is kept in a refrigerator.

"While the car is 'in action' the conductor, from his position between dining-room and kitchen, keeps his eyes upon the ten tables and endeavors to see that none of the diners is neglected. For all the supplies on the car he is held to strict account. On his 'trip sheet,' as it is called, is put a list of everything taken on the car when it starts out. A record of all articles sold is entered upon the sheet, and when the car comes 'home' again all that has not been sold must be on hand.

"The equipment of a dining-car conforms to standards just as do locomotives, trucks, rails and ties. Dishes are made according to established patterns, each piece of china having the company's monogram upon it. The same is true of the linen, silver, menu-holders everything. Thus a loss can be easily traced. The waiters are allowed twenty dollars a month for breakage. All damage in excess of that, though, they have to pay for, and the cost is divided among them equally."

VISIT TO MT. ALTO

Noted Author's Opinion of State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis.

Mary Roberts Rinehart, the well known author and playwright, whose "Seven Days" is making the hit of the season in New York, paid a visit to the State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis at Mont Alto this week. In speaking of her visit she said:

"I am deeply impressed with Mont Alto. I have just come from one of America's famous health resorts and comparing one with the other, I think Mont Alto more than holds its own.

"I went to stay an hour and stayed a whole day and a night.

"What impressed me? I think it was the restfullness of the place—that and the hope on the faces of some new arrivals who climbed the mountain just behind us, and the radiant happiness of those who were going home cured. There were plenty of other things—the air which must have been a surprise to my Pittsburg lungs—the order and cleanliness of the place—its size, for it looks and is a trim village—the cheerful faces of the attendants as well as the patients—the beautiful indolence of the convalescent—and oh yes, the deer. Imagine having wild deer that are not wild and that had the colossal audacity to come down and eat the new wheat under our very noses."

A Baby's Crib-Quilt.

"Two yards of silkoline were bought for the comfort. This costs fifteen cents a yard. The design was pink chrysanthemums on a white ground. This, cut in half, formed the center of each side. It was given a five-inch border in a delicate shade of rose pink which could be found only in fine cheese-cloth at fifeen cents a yard. Silkolines and cheaper cheese-cloth were very crude in color. At the corners the pink was carefully mitered.

One piece was than laid face down on a bed. On it was spent a roll of fine cotton, costing twenty-five cents. If carefully opened, this cotton rolls out perfectly smooth and is beautifully soft and white. The other side was placed on this carefully and the two pinned together through the cotten. When adjusted, the proper spots for tacking were marked by pinning through from side to side—that is, entirely through the cotten. The tacking should not be too close—about five inches apart. Tack with double pink Germantown wool. Put the darning-needle straight through and then back, tying in a knot and clipping the ends. This is easier than trying to take a stitch through goods and cotton.

"After tacking, trim the cotton around the edges, rather than push back into the comfort. Turn the two outer edges together, and stitch with pink thread in a fine running stitch." - From Woman's Home Companion for March.

Sleep

Sleep is nature's rebuilding period, when the energy used by the brain, muscles and organs is renewed. If you lose sleep, your system is robbed of the strength sleep should give. Continued loss of sleep multiplies this loss until you become a physical wreck. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the irritated nerves and brings refreshing, invigorating sleep. Nervine contains no opiates, and therefor leaves no bad after-effects.

"For over two years I suffered untold agonies; my friends thought I was going crazy. I could not sleep nor rest at all. I tried different doctors, but failed to find relief. My head would ache all the time; I was like one drunk; could not concentrate my mind, and was so restless and worried that sleep was out of the question. After taking one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine I felt wonderfully changed. I am now on my third bottle and am gaining all the time. I can lie down and sleep like a child, and am able to do my work."
MRS. MAY SCOTT, English, Ind.

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Nervine, and we authorize him to return price of first bottle (only) if it fails to benefit you.

Here and There.

"St. Patrick's Day."
Top o'the mornin' to you.

Banker William P. Humes was a Tyrone visitor one day last week.

Ray Davis, of the Garman House, drove his big automobile to Tyrone last week.

Allen S. Garman and Lloyd VanScoyoc, of Tyrone, greeted Bellefonte friends last week.

Lawyer Clement Dale transacted legal business at Philipsburg on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Donald S. Potter, representing the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. transacted business at Lock Haven, last week.

M. J. Mulhall, of Oil City, was struck and killed by a passenger train, at Philipsburg, on Wednesday night of last week.

A severe wind storm on Sunday afternoon put quite a number of telephone wires out of commission for the balance of the day.

H. D. Malloy, representing the Johnson Service Company, of Milwaukee, is in town this week inspecting the work at the new school building.

A lady last week lost her prayer book and thoughtfully advertised the fact in "The Republican." She recovered the prayer book. See the point?

Mrs. William A. Lyon returned home this week after an extended visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Claire B. Williams, at Jersey City, N. J.

Among our valued subscribers who thoughtfully dropped in on Saturday to leave a little of the "long green" with us were Jacob H. Cole and Barney McGovern. Here's a "thankyou", by way of showing our appreciation.

Colonel John I. Rogers, for many years one of the owners of the Philadelaphia National League baseball club, died on Sunday, last, at Denver, Colorado. Colonel Rogers was well known at this place, having visited here frequently.

Colonel W. Fred Reynolds attended the quarterly meeting of the Board of Missions of the Diocese of Harrisburg, held at Lock Haven on Monday. The several members were guests of Rev. Lewis Nichols, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of Lock Haven.

We are in receipt a copy of Reach's official American League Guide for 1910 published by the A. J. Reach Co., of Philadelphia, and edited by Francis C. Richter, of "Sporting Life." It is regarded as one of the best baseball guides ever published and is for sale by newsdealers for 10 cents per copy.

Robert Condo, one of our valued subscribers at the thriving town of Boalsburg, was unable to get to "The Republican" office last week, so he commissioned Samuel Rine, the water superintendent, to call and advance his subscription another year. Samuel attended to the job all right.

The Undine Fire Company will tonight celebrate "St. Patrick's Day" with a buffet lunch at the hose house, in Bishop Street. It was on "St. Patrick's Day" that the Undines moved into their present quarters, and each year the event is celebrated with some appropriate function. Tonight's promises to be one that would make St. Patrick himself wish he had been on hand.

The gymnasium and athletic field of the Lock Haven State Normal School are not excelled by those of any other secondary school in Pennsylvania. Physical education is not neglected in this important school. The academic studies are rigorously taught and the professional work is modern and in accordance with the latest pedagogy. The spring term opens April 4th. Send for a catalog.

W. H. Macker will have his store open for Easter. He has a fine line of Easter goods. His store will be opened and ready for business today, the 17th., thus affording the public an opportunity to examine his stock. Since the recent fire he has equipped his store with a complete and entirely new line of fruits, confectionery, candy, tobacco and cigars. Corner High and Allegheny Streets. Both phones.

The editor of "The Republican" has been showing up for work rather late in the morning for several days, which fact is due to his being detained at the breakfast table by some exceptionally good buckwheat cakes. Our old friend, John A. Daley, of Romola, took us by surprise one day last week and presented us with a sack of his very fine buckwheat flour. Just how he knew of our weakness for buckwheat cakes we are unable to tell, but he hit the right spot, although we must confess he is sadly interfering with our effort to get around to business early in the morning.

A genial visitor to "The Republican" office one day last week was Harry Shawley, of Yarnell, who advanced his subscription another year. Subscribers to "The Republican" are welcome visitors to this office. Out-of-town subscribers are cordially invited to use our office as a headquarters while in town, attending to shopping or other business. They find this a convenient place at which to leave packages and other articles until ready to depart for home. Those subscribers who are not availing themselves of our office for this purpose are urged to do so.

Dr. Edith Schad gave a thimble party on Thursday afternoon, last.

Dr. E. S. Dorworth transacted business at Altoona one day last week.

Dr. DeLaun Stewart this week received a new 25-horse power Middleby runabout.

Mrs. Henry C. Quigley on Saturday, last, visited Mrs. George F. Hess, at Beech Creek.

The benefit at the Scenic on Tuesday evening for the Bellefonte Baseball Club was a splendid success.

Montgomery & Co. announce that from now on their large store will remain open each evening until 8 o'clock; Saturday evenings until all patrons are through shopping.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Eckenroth, of Unionville, died on Tuesday morning after a brief illness. Mrs. Eckenroth is a sister of Mrs. E. J. Williams, of Unionville.

"Dick" Quigley, of Lock Haven, came up to Bellefonte one day last week in his new 60-horse power Thomas car, had lunch with his brother, Lawyer Henry C. Quigley, and returned home during the afternoon.

The venerable Jacob Sands on Sunday, last, celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary. Quite a few friends called to extend best wishes and hearty congratulations. He was also the recipient of numerous and beautiful gifts as mementos of the happy occasion.

John Dubbs, Jr., and that cheery smile that accompanies him everywhere, was a guest this week at the home of his father. John is one of the Adams Express Company's best men, holding a responsible position with that big concern and having headquarters at Hagerstown, Md.

A delightful surprise party was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, on East High Street. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Miller and her husband arranged the party as a surprise in her honor. Quite a number of friends were present and a delightful evening was spent.

County Treasurer Frank N. Moore, of Bradford county, was a Bellefonte visitor on Tuesday. Mr. Moore was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature during the time James A. Schofield served at Harrisburg, so he naturally hunted up our genial townsman and they passed a pleasant hour or two talking over old times.

The many Bellefonte friends of Rober E. Speer will learn with delight that he will speak on Wednesday evening March 30, at the meeting at this place of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Mr. Speer is secretary of the Foreign Board of the Presbyterian Church. Miss E. T. Kelfat, of China, and J. Alvin Orr, who conducted devotional studies at the Pocono Conference last Summer, will also be in attendance.

Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox is in York this week attending the conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. C. C. Shuey and Milton R. Johnson departed yesterday to attend several of the sessions, and W. T. Twitmire will probably go tomorrow to remain over Sunday. It is not known who will be assigned to Bellefonte, although it is generally understood that Dr. Wilcox expects to be transferred to some other charge.

The work of the Lock Haven State Normal School is, primarily, to prepare teachers for the public schools. In this work we have been eminently successful. Its graduates today are college professors, Normal school teachers, county superintendents, high school, and grade teachers. It also maintains a college preparatory department, as well as departments of music, elocution, art and business. The spring term opens April 4th. Send for a catalog

Mrs. John Hinman Gibson and little daughter, Margaret, arrived in Bellefonte yesterday and will visit for the next month or two at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cook, on West Linn Street. The Gibsons have been living at Lansdowne but recently Mr. Gibson was transferred to New York. They had about decided to live at Plainfield, N. J., but just about the time they thought they had selected a desirable home it was found that the house was not what they wanted and that furthermore, no other houses were to be had. Accordingly, Mrs. Gibson decided to visit for a time with her mother, who has been suffering of late with a severe cold, and meanwhile Mr. Gibson will board in New York and incidentally look about for a new home.

Mrs. Joseph Baker, who was Miss Jennie Breese, last week visited Bellefonte friends. Since their marriage a short time ago Mr. and Mrs. Baker have had no end of trouble deciding what place to call "home." Returning from their wedding tour, they went to housekeeping at Altoona, where Mr. Baker was identified with the Pennsylvania Railroad. They had been in their home but a few days when Mr. Baker was transferred to Watsontown. With nothing else to be done, they packed up and removed to Watsontown, where they picked out a cozy home and prepared to settle down for the Summer. They had not been in their second home more than a week when Mr. Baker was notified that he should be prepared to be transferred to some point in New Jersey.

Miss Emma Aiken has returned home after a visit to Philadelphia and New York.

Handsome Irvin J. Dreese, of Lemont, was a business visitor to Bellefonte on Monday.

Gilbert vs. Campbell in a rattling, good boxing match at the armory tomorrow night.

Homer Barnes made a flying to Pittsburg during the early part of the week, returning home on Tuesday.

The condition of Dr. George F. Harris is greatly improved, much to the satisfaction of his many friends.

Mrs. Charles Morris returned home on Saturday after a delightful visit with friends at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Emil Joseph returned home on Sunday morning after a pleasant visit with relatives in New York.

John E. Fryberger and two children, of Philipsburg, were over-Sunday visitors at the home of W. R. Brachbill, on Spring Street.

Mrs. M. R. Sample and son, and also Mrs. Emanuel Klepper, of Philadelphia, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Musser.

Mrs. Hugh N. Crider, recently operated on for appendicitis at the Bellefonte hospital, was able to be removed to her home on Monday.

Dr. Curry, a Pittsburg eye specialist, several days ago performed an operation on Miss Sarah Collins. He was assisted by Drs. Hayes and Sebring.

Philip McGinley, who is located at Sparrow's Point, Maryland, was called to Bellefonte by the death of his mother, the late Mrs. Daniel McGinley.

P. J. McDonald, one of Unionville's hustling Democrats, transacted business in town on Saturday and remained over Sunday with Bellefonte friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hill, of Sunbury, spent Sunday at the Daniel Snyder home. Edward is a former Bellefonte boy and is getting along nicely at Sunbury.

Postmaster and Mrs. Philip D. Foster, of State College, were over-Sunday visitors at the home of Fred Musser. Mrs. Haupt, mother of Mrs. Foster, has been quite ill for some time.

Winfield Brisbin, a brother of Miss Katherine Brisbin, who is identified with the St. Paul & Milwaukee Railroad, in Wisconsin, is visiting at the home of Colonel and Mrs. J. L. Spangler.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Minnie Harper is resting much more comfortably than was the case last week. Her many friends sincerely trust that her improvement may be permanent and that she soon will be restored to health.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, of Allegheny, are visiting old friends and boyhood scenes in and about Bellefonte. Mr. Clark at one time resided here, making his home with his grand-mother, Mrs. Robert Morrison, on Howard Street.

General and Mrs. James A. Beaver were in Harrisburg this week. General Beaver was a guest at the dinner given by Governor Stuart to the judges of the Superior Court and also a number of common pleas judges from interior counties.

It was a pleasure to us to greet our old friend, Harry Fitzgerald, formerly a Bellefonte boy, now prospering at Columbus, Ohio. In addition to looking remarkably well, Harry's general appearance indicated that it is costing the West more than it is costing him.

Judge and Mrs. John G. Love returned to Atlantic City on Sunday. Judge Love believes that the sea air has greatly benefitted his health and he only came home to attend to some pressing business matters. It is his intention to remain at the seashore for several weeks longer.

James Krape, of Howard, who recently was appointed an attache at the Bellefonte hospital, reports to us that he is greatly pleased with his work and that too much praise cannot be accorded Miss Lois Calderwood, the superintendent, and also the nurses for the general management of the institution.

A rattling basketball game is scheduled at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tomorrow (Friday) night, at 8.30 o'clock. The Lock Haven team will meet the Bellefonte Academy second team, and it probably will be the last game of the season. Admission, 15 cents; a lady and gentlemen admitted for 25 cents. Turn out and give the boys a good crowd.

William McFarlane had a miraculous escape from being killed yesterday. While at work on a telephone pole, in front of the residence of Rev. Dr. J. Allison Platts, on Spring Street, he fell heavily to the ground. He was removed to the Bellefonte hospital, where it was found that while he had sustained a badly sprained wrist and had been severely bruised, he was otherwise uninjured.

Quite a number of persons are planning to move in the next week or ten days. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rumberger will move into Isaac Miller's new house, on Wilson Street. Wade Cruse will move into the Reed property, on Logan Street, and Mrs. Powers is moving from Spring Street to the house vacated by Mr. Cruse, on Curtin Street. Ex-Sheriff Walker is moving into the Powers house. John Breon has moved into the home of John Rishel, with the latter, on his farm.

"The Republican"—$1 a year.

Wilber Wilson has returned home after a delightful visit with his big brother, John, who is manager of the Western Union office, at Altoona.

Mrs. Charles Kirby Rath departed on Saturday, last, for Elizabeth, N. J., after a week's visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider.

The grand millinery opening of Joseph Bros. & Co. on Wednesday and Thursday of next week will undoubtedly attract a large crowd of shoppers. This will without question be the most elaborate display of millinery in Bellefonte, surpassing anything of the kind attempted thus far and affording shoppers an exceptional opportunity to secure the very latest in styles and the very best in quality.

Mrs. A. O. Furst entertained quite a little group of guests over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Furst brought their daughter, Louise, up from Williamsport to remain at the Furst home here while they move their household goods to Philadelphia, where Mr. Furst is engaged in the manufacture of lead pencils as a member of the Lippincott Pencil Company. Another guest was her brother, William Chamberlain, of Harrisburg, while still another was Mrs. Jacob Wagner, of Watsontown.

Montgomery & Co.'s attractive advertisements in "The Republican" are making a hit throughout the county. They cleverly call attention to the complete and elaborate line of gentlemen and boys' clothing and furnishings handled by that large and progressive store. One nice thing about the Montgomery & Co. store is that patrons are always sure to get the newest things on the market, a standard of goods that equals the very best to be had in the city stores and withal, prices that make shopping a pleasure instead of a burden.

A Cravenette Top Coat

is the proper thing to wear when the bluster comes.

You might as well buy a Cravenette as any other kind of a top coat, because in sunshine it will look just as good as any other kind of a top coat.

That is why our line of Priestley's Cravenettes is long. But because the line is long don't believe the price is. We make the short price when we first mark our goods; you need pay us only $10 to $20.

UMBRELLAS

We have them. A good silk umbrella for $4.
